I cannot help you with much... but there are a few tricks I know...

First.. make the calls as soon as possible to moment they booked... to do this.. lock the calls on 3 days ahead.. every time a person doesn't show up... push another person.

Another thing I can help you with... make the a call to discuss only value... then another for sales.. that way the first is low pressure and you only get to the sales call people who want the thing.

I am not a salesman... only at scale... so I don't have much on this...
